

Mock Wedding Is Put On By W.B.A. Women

"Rustlers" Stage Negro Ceremony, and Gee, but They Had Fun

Members of the W. B. A. Tuesday night enjoyed the unique experience of witnessing a "negro wedding," staged by the "Rustlers," a contingent of the organization. The following persons took part: Minister, Mrs. Rachel Gay; bride, Mrs. Susan Mason; bridegroom, Miss Marion Wright; matron of honor, Mrs. Mae Tomkins; best man, Mrs. Henriette Perkins; ring bearer, Mrs. Grace Lehman; flower girl, Mrs. Ida Olleros; musician, Mrs. Mabel Bath.

Beg Your Pardon

In an advertisement of the Consolidated Lumber Company, announcing their new paint and building hardware department, the name of the manager appeared as Charles V. Young. It should have been Charles V. Jones, as everyone in town knows. Mr. Jones reports that numerous persons asked him if there was a new manager for the Consolidated in Torrance. While the many questions in this connection convinced Mr. Jones that the advertisement was read widely, naturally he was fundamentally opposed to the error in the presentation of his name.

K. of C. Will Give First of a Series of Dances Tonight

The Knights of Columbus will hold the first of a series of dances at Catholic hall tonight. This series was arranged to raise a fund for the part in the million-dollar pledge to build an observatory for Father Richard of Santa Clara, known widely as "the padre of the rains." The Torrance Knights have pledged $375 to this fund.

Fine Arts Will Be Feature of Clubs' Program

Presidents' Council Will Meet on Thursday Afternoon, Nov. 20

The third presidents' council of the Los Angeles District of Federated Clubs offers delightful refreshment after the stress of many days devoted to study of American citizenship, international relations, and education, coupled with excessive (and successful) efforts at getting out the vote; for at this time the theme of "Fine Arts" will grace the afternoon session, while songs of Thanksgiving and an illustrated lecture on the redwoods, combined with many items of general interest, including an address by Miss Grace Stoermer of the woman's department of the Bank of Italy on "Business Principles Every Clubwoman Should Know," will make the morning session attractive.

Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale will be the hostess for this council, which meets Thursday, Nov. 20, beginning at 9:15 a. m. The clubhouse being reached by the Glendale street car leaving the Sixth and Main street station, Los Angeles, at 9:15, leaving the car at Lexington avenue and walking one block west to Central. Many presidents are taking advantage of the invitation to bring seven club member guests, as many nearby tea-rooms assure that the hour and a half recess at noon will suffice to refresh those who have not made their luncheon reservations beforehand.

During the afternoon there will be special music under the direction of Mrs. W. E. Mabee, who will present Miss Lucille Gibbs, soprano, Miss Eleanor Warren, pianist, and Miss Antoinette Sabel, who will talk on "Music in Industry." Miss Leta Horlock will preside over the portion of the program devoted to "Art," while Mrs. Herbert Carr, newly appointed chairman of literature, will share that subject with Mrs. Jack Valley, head of the literature department of Los Angeles Ebell. Mrs. Clara Bryant Heywood, recently returned from New York, will discuss modern drama in its relation to the district theme, "Education for Peace and the protection of the Home," as evidenced by the plays now current in the metropolis.

Mrs. Helen Webb and her house guest, Mrs. Birdie Lee Larche, of Terrell, Okla., were in Long Beach Monday.

Torrance Brick Now Sold Over Entire So. Cal.

Local Product Becomes Famous for quality in Building Circles

Torrance is becoming a center in the manufacture of brick is indicated by the rapidly growing business of the Torrance Brick Company, not the least important of the local industries. Torrance-made brick is now being sold extensively throughout the entire Los Angeles basin, a considerable amount being used even in the city of Los Angeles, a fact which brings natural pride to officials of the local company. The local plant is now turning out 50,000 bricks a day.

F. D. Lewis of the company, brothers, is enthusiastic over the brilliant prospects ahead of this Torrance industry. "Torrance brick," said Mr. Lewis, "is becoming well known in Southern California building circles. Because we are a thoroughly Torrance institution, we are interested in the development of this city. Our payroll brings money to Torrance and sales of Torrance brick naturally increase the size of that payroll." "It is noticeable in the building industry that brick construction for dwellings is becoming more and more popular. This pleases us, of course, but what is even more satisfactory to us is the fact that Torrance brick is regarded in building circles as synonymous with quality and dependability. The plant of the Torrance Brick Company is located near the intersection of Plaza del Amo and the Pacific Electric tracks.
